Final Remarks

After using the app, do you think it sparked your curiosity to learn more about privacy in Internet of Things systems?

After using the app, do you think it sparked your curiosity to learn more about digital privacy in general?

Can you easily identify which device collects what data just by seeing them in the map or on the devices page?

What would you change on the app to make it easier to use?

Do you have any other suggestion?

Information

This usability test is being carried out within the scope of the Master's thesis in Computer Engineering at the University of Madeira, created by Nelson Vieira, aims to collect information regarding the application usability, design and bugs or otherwise unwanted features.

I am agree to participate on this test of my own free will
